Lee College is a two-year, lower-division undergraduate institution located in Baytown, Texas, approximately 25 miles from downtown Houston. The college is a commuter school with all students residing off-campus.

All U.S. citizens, permanent residents, undocumented residents, and certain visa holders may apply for admission to Lee College. Additionally, foreign nationals residing overseas can apply under Lee College's international student admission process. For more information regarding admissions policies at Lee College, please see the Lee College Catalog. College readiness assessment is required prior to enrollment.
